

Think Responsibly Think Challenges

1. What are Think Challenges?

Think Challenges are a way for Calgary students and teachers to explore some of the topics in 'Think Responsibly' in new and different ways, and to compete for great prizes! Students are challenged to create exciting and dynamic information projects inspired by the 'Challenges' embedded in each of the modules. Students can take on the challenge individually, in small groups, or as part of a class challenge brought forward by a student or initiated by the teacher.

2. What support is available for creating Think Challenge entries?

Upon submission of an application for funding, grant money will be available for classroom or school materials, equipment and technology that can help in the creation of a quality project that demonstrates a clear and relevant message and appropriate use of ICT skills as outlined in the program of studies.

For Example:

The challenge might be to create a multimedia presentation that shows important points to remember when trying to resolve conflict situations. Demonstrate strategies that work and ones that don't. Include images and pictures that add to your message. The 'Challenges' are found in each of the 7 modules under Act as a Responsible Citizen.

Students may want to include digital photos and use PhotoStory to create a powerful message, with a voice and musical element, to demonstrate conflict resolution skills.

In this case, a request for a digital camera to support this work is appropriate. The grant money is available for such items.

3. Can I participate if I am not in grade 4-7?

Yes! You may want to create a multimedia presentation that would be appropriate for students in younger grades.
